- Increase Scholars' opportunities for engagement and research with non-academic partners, industry and community organizations;
- Strengthen the capacity of West African academic partners and non-academic organizations to address their priorities.

Research Placement Partner (RPP)

You have selected a research topic shared by the RPPs. You will work with your RPPs on the selected topics to produce a high-quality output (e.g., report, brief, article) at the end of the 5-weeks. Each Scholar is to submit a separate report based on your topic.

QES Training Programme materials

You will receive a schedule, other training materials, and housekeeping information about the NRTC on the morning of Monday, August 19, 2024, at the School of Public Health (SPH Room 19) during the orientation.

Travel Documentation Requirements

No visa is required for countries within the West African sub-region: In case you need a visa, inform the administration as soon as possible.

- All non-Ghanaian Scholars need a valid passport for at least 6 months, with enough pages for immigration stamps to enable them to enter Ghana. Kindly note that the ECOWAS card cannot be used for travel by air, according to the University of Ghana International Programs Office.

Health

Proof of a valid Yellow Fever is required for entry into Ghana. Thus, we encourage our Scholars to carry their valid Yellow Fever vaccination certificate/card with their passports. If you are on any medication, please remember to bring enough dosage of your medication.

Medical insurance and emergency healthcare services

National Health Insurance will be used to cover incidental medical expenses. Non-Ghanaian Scholars will register on August 19, 2024, for it. Ghanaians are encouraged to come along with their NHIA insurance cards for use. We encourage Scholars to inquire about travel medical coverage with their own insurance in addition. In case of any incident during the training programme, kindly let the Netlinks administration know (at the essential contact section).

Attire

Smart casual or business clothes are acceptable. You may want to bring exercise clothes for early morning walks and attire suitable for a stakeholders' dinner. Temperatures from August to September range from 25-30 degrees Celsius. Bring light clothing for the day and a warm shawl or pullover for the evenings. The conference room of the NRTC has air conditioning. When in use, the room does get cold, so carry along a shawl/sweater for use in the conference room.

Flights/transportation

You have already received an award letter. For Scholars arriving from outside the country, flight tickets will be purchased for you by the programme after completing the Cohort 4 Travel information required form and you have confirmed your suitable travel date and time. Please keep and submit your boarding passes stub to the project coordinator on Monday, August 19, 2024, in an envelope. If you choose to change your itinerary after you have confirmed it and it has been booked, you will be responsible for the additional cost.

Travel advice

Always plan to be at the airport at least two hours before a domestic flight and three hours before an international flight to:

- allow for any traffic jams toward the airport
- ensure that you are not bumped off the flight in case of overbooking
- check in and go through the immigration
- get to your boarding gate on time

You can check in online 24 hours before your flight (check with your specific airline). This will allow you to select your preferred seat and fill out your frequent flyer details (optional). This information is available on the airline's website.

Allowable luggage weight is indicated on your ticket – which is about 23 kg and 7 kg for hand luggage. The programme does not cover excess luggage so ensure the airline luggage limit is not exceeded. Airlines are particular about the substances/objects you can take on board, especially in your hand luggage. Don't carry luggage for strangers, and never leave your luggage unattended. Make sure your luggage is clearly tagged with your name and contacts.

If you are transiting through airports, be sure to check your luggage and yourself through to your destination. Always carry some cash with you for any eventualities or delays.

Transport from Kotoka International Airport (KIA) to Hotel (Yiri Lodge)

Upon arrival at the airport, you will be met by a QES Team/NRTC representative. If a driver is absent, please call Afua on (+233 209547447). The drive from KIA airport to Yiri Lodge is approximately 10 to 15 minutes depending on the traffic. Do not leave the airport on your own.

Meals

Your meals will be paid for from the day of arrival to the day of departure, including non-training days. You will have breakfast, lunch and supper throughout your stay at the NRTC in Asesewa. During the training, lunch and supper will be served as a group at the NRTC kitchen. You will prepare some selected traditional meals on selected weekends at Asesewa. You will be provided with the ingredients. You will be given a per diem of GHC 70.00 to cover incidentals for 3 days (including days of trips to Koforidua/Bonsu and Sajuna and Dinner Day) at the NRTC. Depending on the training schedule, lunch will be served from 1.00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m. at the NRTC kitchen. On days you will lodge at Yiri Lodge, the Lodge will provide supper. On the day of your arrival at Yiri Lodge, indicate to the front desk if you would like a meal prepared for you. Meals provided upon arrival are based on requests from guests. The programme does not cover alcoholic beverages. Scholars who purchase alcoholic beverages will pay for it themselves. Please let Netlinks administration know if you have special dietary considerations.

Water

Tap water may not be safe for drinking, but you can use it for cooking. Bottled drinking water will be provided during the orientation. Water bottles are provided for re-filling at the NRTC from water dispensers. The water in the dispensers is for DRINKING PURPOSES ONLY. Tap water at NRTC is safe for cooking.

Covered expenses

All accommodation, training-related transportation, health insurance (NHIS), and all meals will be catered for during the program.

Expenses that are NOT covered

The programme does not pay any expenses for beverages outside the mealtimes (alcoholic drinks), personal telephone calls, or personal needs. The programme does not cover excess luggage, so ensure the airline luggage limit is not exceeded. Make sure to specify the closest airport to you in your country of origin in the travel request link shared because the programme does not cover in-country hotel expenses. If in doubt, please check with Netlinks administration before incurring an expense.

Reimbursements

Reimbursements will not be made without receipts.

Receipts are required for any transport expenses within your country to the airport, e.g., fuel or taxi to the airport. (Note: Although you will only have a one-way taxi receipt, the expense will be multiplied by two, if the return journey costs the same. Fuel is paid against a receipt, and you are advised to fill the gas tank to take care of the return journey as this is paid only once. You cannot claim taxi fare and fuel for the same journey. If you wish to claim mileage, it will be calculated per kilometre.)

Please itemize all your expenses on a piece of paper and attach them to your receipts. Ensure that your receipts include your name (written on the back). Please, put them in an envelope and give them to the Netlinks administration on Monday, August 19, 2024, at the orientation programme.

Reimbursement process

Reimbursements will be made during the programme period in Ghana cedis. You will be provided with a fixed amount of money in Ghana cedis to cater for your transportation within your home country.

Group photos will be taken, and digital copies shared with each Scholar.

Social media

A session on how to share on the social media handles (Facebook, X, Twitter, LinkedIn) will be provided. A QES staff will be based on-site to walk you through sharing on social media. The QEScholars on duty will work with the QES team to share snippets of daily sessions with pictures after this on the Social Media Platforms.

Evaluation

At the end of every week, a link to a Google form will be shared with you for evaluation. You are encouraged to complete it immediately after you receive the link. This will help provide us with timely feedback to improve the programme.

Closing ceremony

A closing ceremony will be organised at the end of the programme. It will be attended by QES partners and RPPs, university faculty, and QES alumni. You will share your QES experience using Microsoft PowerPoint in 10 minutes followed by questions and answers. A template will be shared with you to prepare for this presentation.

Security

As in any city globally, visitors to Ghana should be careful with their handbags and other personal belongings. Common rules to guard you against being a victim include:

- Even in your hotel room, keep your valuables safe and away from any attraction.
- Do not walk at night, even for a short distance.
- Do not walk alone.
- Be wary of people hanging around outside hotels. It is a favourite place to catch tourists and mug them.
- Keep to the main streets, avoiding shortcuts.
- Avoid carrying large sums of money and do not wear expensive jewellery.
- Do not accept food from strangers. Visitors have been known to be drugged and then robbed.

- Keep doors and windows locked and valuables out of sight when in a vehicle. Snatching items from vehicles can occur.
- Laptops and expensive mobile phones are attractive to thieves.
- Check with hotel security if you plan to leave the hotel.
